

Change Agents

Facilitating Change in Organisations

Change is being driven through many organisations as government and businesses look to add value and to secure a greater Return on Investment. Change is being expected from all levels of organisations and individuals to maximise performance and to deliver new and improved outcomes.

Whether it is in the public or in the private sector, individuals and teams are working to create change in behaviours and performance in both clients and employees.

The concept of developing Change Agents allows organisations to identify, train and adequately equip people to facilitate & embed a culture of lasting change in organisations, staff and service-users.
